

THE CURE FAMILY

FORWORD

Here is a brief record of the Cure Family, and near relatives, including names, location of births, marriages and deaths as accurately as could be ascertained.

For any incomplete part, blank spaces are provided to be filled with the necessary information.

The Cures have nearly all been farmers and pioneers in the settlement of new territory.

Coming from the different lands of Europe, in the early settlement of America, they have followed the western tide of civilization as pioneers of many states.

The record of our ancestors is a clean one and worthy of emulation of present and future generations. Their greatness lies in Duties Well Done, Honesty of Purpose, Frugality and Industry.

Any further facts or corrections concerning the family will be thankfully received by

Yours very truly,

C. E. CARNAHAN,

Mt. Pleasant, Iowa, November 1, 1936.

THE CURE FAMILY

WM. CURE'S (Senior) FAMILY

Wm. Cure, born in England, died in New York. Married in New York, 1768 to Miss Secor, born in France.

WM. CURE'S War Record.

Washington, D. C., November 2, 1928.
Adjutant General Office.

To Mrs. Bernard Keir:

The records of this office show that one William Cure served in the Revolution war in Captain Samuel Sacket's Company 4, N. Y. Regiment, also designated 4th Battalion of N. Y. forces, commanded by Col. Henry B. Livingston. He enlisted May 5th, 1778, for 9 months and was discharged Feb. 5, 1779.

The records show that one William Cure served in that war as a Sergeant in Captain George Brinckerhoff's Company, Col. Dirck Brinckerhoff's Regiment, New York Militia, of Duches county. He was in service 21 days from October 7, 1777 on an expedition to Peekshill and guarding the river.

The records show further that one William Cure, probably the same man, rank not stated, served in the war, in Col. Abraham Brinckerhoff's N. Y. Regiment, Militia of Duches county, and that he received certificates in the amount of L2, S5, D2 for service in the years 1779-1780. The name John Cure is not found on the records on this file in this office of soldiers of the Revolutionary war from N. Y. or any other state.

Major General,
The Adjutant General,
Brig. E. T. Conley.

WM. CURE, A PATRIOT.

These records come from far and wide
Of men who fought and now have died.
You will find their names are written here
On printed pages plain and clear.
This is a record made for the Cures
A family tree of mine and yours.
May we cherish these records in our hearts
And each one ever do his part.
May the future generation an active interest take
And may they and their children keep these records up to date.

It was many, many years ago
On England's distant shore
A baby boy was born one day, as the records then will show:
Just a tiny baby, he was to be sure.
His parents named him William Cure.
While but a child by his mother's knee
He sailed with his parents across the sea.
He grew to manhood as boys will do
Very much the same as I and you.
A pleasure loving youth, no doubt,
When his country called and the war broke out;
The war of the Revolution: when England's grasping hand
Tried hard to rule America and taxed to beat the band.

They passed the paper round about—(For allegiance to the King).
"I will not sign," young William cried
And loud his voice did ring.
So to war young William went,
A fighting scamp was he—
On the records in Washington, his name you still can see.
He came here in the early day and helped to make the west.
He fought for home and country and those he loved the best.

THE CURE FAMILY

And then when freedom was at stake in eighteen sixty one
Seven brothers fought, a record made.
They were Old Will's Great great grandson's
Augustus, James and George, to be sure,
Jasper, Alonso, Almon and Burton Cure.
And from the Revolution down to the late World war
The Cures have taken an active part
And won their battle scars.

They pioneered the country. They fought on land and sea
And many a deed of valor done to succor you and me.
A fighting record, clean and pure
Handed down by that old William Cure.
Now, we the decendants of that clan
Should bow in honor to that brave man.

ESTELLA (CURE) ELLIOTT,
Republic, Kansas.

In honor of her brave relatives. 1935.
